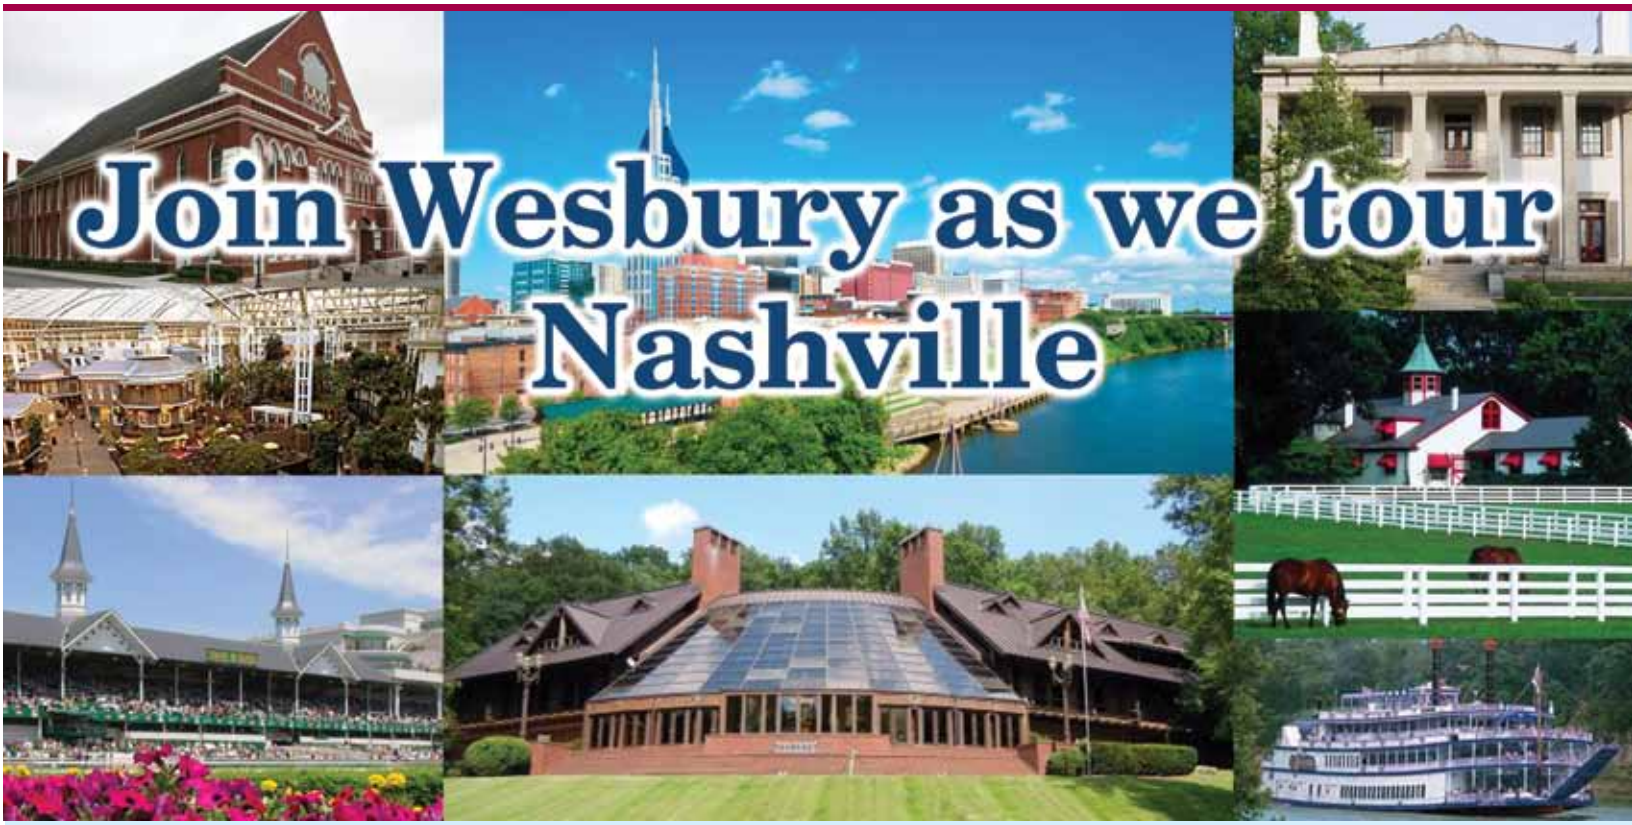
WESBURY WINDOW

Winter 2013
Volume 18 · Issue 1



Join Wesbury as we travel to "The Music City" of Nashville, Tennessee from Monday, June 24th through Saturday, June 29th.

As we make our way south, we will stop en route in Lexington, Kentucky and enjoy a guided tour of the local farms and attractions of "The Bluegrass State". This includes a visit to the Buffalo Trace Distillery, known for making legendary and award winning bourbon whiskey for over 200 years.

We will also reach our first music related destination on the way as we stop and tour Barbara Mandrell's magnificent log home, Fontanel. Nashville is the heart of the country music industry, and we will experience some wonderful live entertainment that includes "Nashville Nightlife Dinner Theater", voted Nashville's #1 Dinner show and "Music from the Heart of Tennessee" aboard the "General Jackson Showboat", where we will dine and cruise along the Cumberland River, as well as enjoy some great entertainment. No trip to Nashville is complete without a tour of the famous Ryman Auditorium, the original home of Grand Ole Opry, which is still a major venue for musicians of all genres, or a visit to the Opryland Hotel, with its Garden Conservatory that houses amazing waterfalls and fountains, all under a glass ceiling. Music is not the only thing on the agenda; we have planned shopping opportunities and other attractions including "The Hermitage", home of President Andrew Jackson, and sipping a glass of lemonade while learning about thoroughbred horses at the Belle Meade Plantation. This information will come in handy when we visit Churchill Downs, the historic race track and home to the Kentucky Derby on our return trip. In Louisville, we will stay at the historic Gault House located downtown. We will also get to tour the city's most famous manufacturing facility, Hillarch & Bradsby Co., makers of the Lousiville Slugger baseball bat.

The cost for this trip is $950 per person, based on double occupancy. Add $246 for single occupancy. The price includes transportation, lodging and 11 meals. $200 per person is due upon making reservations and the final payment is due by Friday, May 10th. For information and reservations phone Tara Lawrence at 814-332-9712.

Visit with Loved Ones Face to Face from any Location

For those unfamiliar with Skype, it is a way of using a computer to communicate with people at any distance over the internet. Skype person to person video communication is not new; the technology has been available for close to 10 years. Computer-to-computer calls on Skype are free anywhere in the world and, with the right equipment; you can both talk with and see each other. Wesbury has had Skype on computers that are accessible in public areas for over 3 years. The only issue was the technology was not being utilized to its full potential. That is until Cribbs Residential Center Activities Assistant Stacey Hoey decided to schedule a set Skype night, once a month, with residents and their family members. After a few residents scheduled appointments, Stacey made contact with their family members and a monthly tradition was started. Families from all around the country can share what is happening in their lives with their loved ones at Wesbury, just like when families would gather together for a Sunday meal.

Cribbs resident, Doris Deater has used Skype night to communicate with her daughter Diane, who lives in Rochester, NY. While Diane visits Wesbury often, this opportunity allows them to connect when she cannot make the 3 hour drive to Meadville. Diane has also coordinated others, Doris' granddaughter and great grandsons, to be present when they Skype. "The Wesbury activities staff met mom at the computer and helped place the call to our house." says Diane. "In no time, we were talking with and seeing mom as if she was in the room with us. Mom was hearing family news, seeing how tall her great-grandsons had grown, and seeing her favorite 4-legged friend, our dog, Phoebe. Using a laptop computer we were able to walk around the house and even into the yard so mom could see our new backyard patio, our latest orchid blooms, and the tomatoes in my garden.....all from her seat at Cribbs. "

The family of Cribbs resident Francis Werling has had very similar experiences, only they are spread out further around the country. Her daughter, DeAn lives in Florida and her granddaughters, Jessica and Jennifer, live in North Carolina and Florida. They only get to see Francis 1 or 2 times a year in person, and like using Skype because it helps to fill in the months that they do not see her. "We appreciate this technology being made available by Wesbury for my grandmother's use." Says Jessica. "It's neat to connect her generation with my children's generation using Skype and Stacey has been so helpful getting Grandma situated and allowing us as much time as we need to catch up. I also love telling my friends that we are "Skyping" with my 94 year old grandmother. That is very cool!"

The scheduled Skype night for residents of Cribbs Residential Center is typically the first Sunday of the month. Appointments begin at 6:00 p.m. To schedule an appointment, please contact Stacey Hoey at 814-332-9294.

Sell Your Home Successfully

After 23 years as a successful local realtor, Grace Motzing, Howard Hannah Price Real Estate Realtor and the 2006 Realtor of the Year Award Winner, has some great tips for preparing to sell your home. "Working with a Realtor can eliminate a lot of the hassle and worry," advises Grace. "The realtor will come out to review your home and after looking at comparable properties, they will recommend a price. Pricing a home correctly is of the utmost importance. Starting off too high may cause you to lose buyers because people are often afraid to make a more reasonable offer." Once the price is agreed upon, the realtor writes the contract and handles the situation from there forward. Realtors handle all of the details such as ordering home inspections as well as preparing all of the materials to send to the closer selected. Grace often works with her daughter, Joy Motzing McClain, who has an impressive resume of her own. Joy was just awarded Realtor of the Year for 2012 and is named President of the Greater Meadville Board of Realtors for 2013. They agree that while the realtors work hard for the seller; sellers have to keep some things in mind, as well. Grace and Joy feel that curb appeal is crucial. If a home doesn't look good when the buyer drives by, they probably won't look any further.

Grace Motzig (left) and Nathalie Price meet to discuss the sale of her home

Below are Grace and Joy's Top Ten Tips to be a Successful Seller.

Be Committed to Selling – In today's market there is no place for sellers who want to just test the waters. If you are not motivated to sell your home, you probably won't sell it.

Make sure the price is right – Today's buyers are educated, so the right price is critical! Ask a few agents for their opinion, glance at www.zillow.com and consider a formal appraisal.

Staging is necessary – Clutter eats equity. Listen to your realtor's suggestions to stage your home. De-clutter and pack away extra personal items.

Make access easy - Consider a key safe – Homes with easy access get more showings.

Get noticed!– Install a "For Sale" sign! Your neighbors may know someone that would be interested. Other ways to get noticed are by using Facebook and YouTube Videos for a virtual tour.

Absorb all feedback and respond– If one buyer says something, other buyers are likely thinking the same thing. When you hear a problem, address it.

Flexibility is fundamental – No showings and or offers usually means the price is too high. Reduce the price until an acceptable offer is received.

Accentuate the positive – Selling, buying and moving are stressful events. Appreciate your agent's efforts and ask what you can do to help get the house sold.

Time is of the essence – Do not underestimate your first buyer. They may be the best buyer. A lower asking price may net a seller and more money in the long run.

Patience is a virtue – Ask your agent what is the average number of days on the market for your area so you know what to expect. But– be ready for anything - your house may sell faster than you expect as well!

Here are the local statistics for 2012:

2012 Statistics from the Greater Meadville Board of Realtors (413 listings)
Average List Price - $111,694
Average Selling Price - $104,000
Average time on market - 235 days or 7.5 months

For more information on preparing for, and selling your home, consider attending a seminar hosted by Wesbury. Grace and Joy will share their knowledge and be available to answer your questions at Wesbury on March 5, 2013 at 2:00 p.m.
To RSVP call Melissa Porter at 814-332-9707.

Wesbury Celebrates 95 Years with Completion of Renovations and New Construction Plans!

The new Wesbury Neighborhood Grill will be open for business in February

In 2013, Wesbury marks ninety-five years of a mission-driven commitment to providing compassionate care and services to area seniors and their families. At the close of 2012, the renovation of Wesbury's Grace Health Center, a 210 bed skilled nursing facility, was at about 98% complete. The final steps consist of clean up, the final renovation of the old Physical Therapy area and the numerous small projects that need to be in place before it can be considered completed. We are happy to say our new cafeteria will be open and serving to Wesbury's staff, as well as residents, volunteers and visitors alike, by the end of February. The new dining service offers many new dining choices for customers from made to order grilled items to a full salad bar, we think everyone who chooses to dine with us will enjoy the food options.

On January 1st, Dr. Jack Bailey and staff at Bailey Medical Associates officially began moving his practice that was located in downtown Meadville. They are now delivering services from the newly constructed Wesbury Medical Arts Building connected to Wesbury's Grace Health Center and located at 600 Wesley Way.

Those of you who have visited Tony Petruso's Northwest Pharmacy Solutions, or have driven by, have undoubtedly noticed that the roof is suffering badly and is in need of being replaced. We have delayed replacing the roof because the entire building is scheduled to be renovated in 2013. The pharmacy will become what new city regulations require us to call it, which is a new "drug store". The building will take on an entirely different appearance; parking and landscaping will be greatly enhanced, as well. The pharmacy, which has been operating in a very confined space, will nearly double in size. Plans also call for an expanded inventory of over-the-counter health aides as well as space for a small "old fashioned" general store which will include a variety of items. The pharmacy will remain open for continuous round the clock service during the entire expansion and reconstruction process. As with Grace Health Center, some of the construction will inconvenience the staff at the pharmacy; however, service to clients should remain uninterrupted, and as usual, free delivery services will remain in effect.

Wesbury bought the property that was the former Edinboro Inn on route 6N in Edinboro adjacent to Culbertson Hills Golf Course in 2011. The plan is for the construction of a senior living community similar to Wesbury's Thoburn Village. The project continues to move along at seemingly a snail's pace, however, behind the scenes, meetings continue to happen, engineers continue to assess and evaluate, and the government entities continue to be involved, as well. The latest meeting, held in mid-December, gave us reason to believe that things are progressing at a normal pace and hopefully we can begin to put in the necessary infrastructure (water, gas, sewer, electricity and roads), beginning in late spring or early summer this year. To keep informed of updates about the Edinboro project's progress, phone Melissa Porter at 814-332-9238.

It's Never Too Late to Start

Losing weight and maintaining a healthy lifestyle has not been an easy road for Alice Brawley, it is something she has struggled with for a long time. Alice is in her 70s, and saw many of her peers facing serious health problems. She did not want to be in that same boat. Dieting and exercise were not new to Alice, over the years she would lose some weight and start feeling good, but would then fall back into some of the habits she had before, which ultimately would leave her feeling depressed. Eating is a way of making one feel better when they are feeling depressed and Alice enjoyed the convenience of fast food and then the cycle continued. Diet and exercise, feel good, and then spiral downward again.
In 2012, Alice decided it was time for a change and approached Wesbury's Thoburn Village Activities Director, Greg Brink, a licensed personal trainer. Before Alice started her program, Greg asked her the following question: "Are you ready to start an activity program for the rest of your life? If so, I can help you lose weight and get fit." A year later she is the poster girl for the Wesbury Fitness Programs.

Starting with small steps, Alice made the commitment of a total lifestyle change. She started to eat right, cutting out fast food and avoiding trans-fats and saturated-fats. She began watching her sodium intake as well as stopped drinking sugary drinks in favor of water, coffee or milk. She has also increased eating fruits, vegetables and whole grains. Then she started Greg's low impact fitness regiment consisting of going to the Thoburn Village Clubhouse Fitness Garage 3 days a week and doing a half hour on the Nu-step, which is a recumbent stepper where you are actually sitting down, and she also began using stretch bands and some weights to build muscle.

Alice has increased her training by joining Body Recall 3 days a week. Body Recall meets for an hour on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at Wesbury. This "Fitness for Life" program is based on simple exercises that are easy, slow and safe. The focus is on regaining flexibility using variety of movement, strength and endurance exercises that help to make daily activities easier. Body Recall is open to the public.

At the start of 2013, Alice has lost 40 pounds and says she hasn't felt this good in years, frankly, she says she feels great.

"I can't go back to the bad habits." says Alice, "It has to be a total lifestyle change and taken one day at a time. But it certainly helps to have the encouragement and support of my cheerleaders, like my neighbors and Greg as well as my own faith for strength. If I can do it in my 70s, anyone can."

Greg Brink encourages Alice to keep up the good work!

Thinking about a Planned Gift? Five Easy Reasons to Give.

Did you know you can receive income for life in exchange for a planned gift? Or that some assets can benefit you more if you give them away? Or that some planned gifts enable tax savings that mean you can pass more of your estate on to your heirs?

There are many ways to remember a charity in your estate plans, and you may be surprised to discover how inexpensive most of them are to accomplish.

Charitable giving does not require great wealth. What it does require is generosity of spirit – the desire to share what you have for the benefit of others. The ultimate value of your contribution will not be measured in dollars and cents. It will be measured in the difference it makes for the better.

Listed at right are the five top reasons to consider making a planned gift. There are many more compelling reasons for making a planned gift to support your favorite nonprofit. For details, visit www.wesbury.com or contact The Wesbury Foundation at 814-332-9264.

Consult with your own legal and financial advisors before making any gift.

1. You can make a bigger difference than you think. Most of your assets are probably not in your checkbook. Planned gifts allow you to take property you do not usually think about and convert it into a generous gift.

2. Your planned gift can be a "back-up plan." Naming a charity as a "contingent beneficiary" in your estate planning means that if some other condition of your plan is not met (such as another beneficiary passing away before you), the gift goes to the charity.

3. You can earn an income from your gift. A planned gift can pay you an attractive rate of return. For example, a Gift Annuity funded by an 85-year-old will pay the giver an 8.1% return, guaranteed for life.

4. You can make a gift that costs you nothing. Most gifts through your Will, Revocable Trust, Life Insurance Policy, or Retirement Account will make a big difference to a nonprofit, but will not cost you anything while you are alive.

5. You can choose to benefit the charity, or the government. Many planned gifts are offset by savings in federal or state taxes. This is especially true of gifts from an IRA or similar retirement account.

Celebrate those we Love

Wesbury hosted the annual Holiday Reception on December 14, 2012, for residents, their families and Wesbury friends. The evening was filled with beautiful decorations, wonderful entertainment, and delicious food! In addition to all the good cheer, Wesbury was adorned in glowing luminaries, each one lit in honor or in memory of a loved one.

For a charitable donation, a luminary candle is lit and a tribute poster is hung in both Grace Health Center and Cribbs Residential Center so residents and guests can enjoy the tribute message the entire Christmas season.

Luminary donations support Wesbury's Benevolent Care Fund, which helps to support those residents who have outlived their financial resources and depend upon Wesbury for care. This year we raised nearly $5,000 in luminary donations.

This beautiful evening is made possible by the generous support of our sponsors. Thank you to Associated Contractors, Inc., First National Bank, RE Johnson Electric, Tony Petruso's Northwest Pharmacy Solutions, LLC., Bailey Medical Associates, Sodexo, PNC and UPMC Health Plan.

Do You Know Someone Extraordinary?

We are looking for 2013 Senior Tribute nominations!

We all know someone who amazes us with their talent, generosity and selflessness. They may be a friend, a neighbor, a relative, or someone from your workplace or church. Each year, Wesbury seeks to find extraordinary individuals, aged 65 or over; groups, organizations or individuals (of any age) who supports seniors, or groups of seniors who are doing good things within the community. The nominees are honored by allowing Wesbury to tell their story and applaud their contributions at our Annual Senior Tribute Recognition Dinner and Auction held in October. Nominees and guests enjoy great food, wonderful entertainment and the opportunity to take home items and prizes from our auctions.

This event is truly inspiring and not only spotlights these unsung heroes, but also serves as a fundraiser for Wesbury's Benevolent Care Fund, which helps support residents who have outlived their financial resources and require charitable care. Please take a moment and think about those who have made a difference in your life or the life of someone you know. Are You Worried About a Friend, a Neighbor or Loved One?

As winter sets in with all of its quiet beauty, we crave warm comfort food and cozy evenings with our families. But, this isn't the experience for all. Many people, especially seniors, find they feel isolated, lonely and frustrated when the snow begins to fall. Simple tasks like getting the mail and taking out the garbage become a burden. They fear falling on ice and wonder how to get their driveway shoveled out. The inability to get groceries or run errands may cause them to miss important appointments or not eat properly. Loneliness not only causes depression. Lack of proper nutrition and stimulation can attribute to increased risk of physical and mental decline. Seniors sometimes feel that their world is getting smaller and smaller, and often they are right.

When this occurs, they find that they need support from someone to help them manage their daily needs. Today neighbors are usually working full time or running their children here and there, and families are spread across the country and not easily available. It is hard to feel helpless. Harder yet is the feeling that you are a burden to anyone, or that you can't manage anymore. For this reason along with the fear of losing independence, many seniors do not want to consider making a move to change their circumstances. But when they do, they find renewed health and wellbeing. They also feel much more in control where the included amenities allow them to regain independence – because they no longer have to ask for help from others. If you are feeling this way, or have a neighbor, friend or family member who you are worried about, consider Winter at Wesbury. A warm and safe environment with friendly neighbors and meaningful activities that includes meals, housekeeping and laundry services. Transportation to appointments and shopping is included. For those who bring a car, cars are kept clear of snow and ice so they may come and go as they please. Personal care can be added for those who require assistance.

Gone are the worries about trudging through the snow or trying to get help from a neighbor or family member! Gone are the worries of declining health and mental wellbeing due to isolation!

Other options include respite or trial stays available for any reason any time of year. Whether you are a caregiver that needs a break or has a vacation planned, your loved one needs a change of scenery and more interaction, or you wish to try out the lifestyle at Wesbury before committing to a permanent move, consider a respite or winter stay for the length of time that you prefer. Simply bring your suitcase, we will provide the rest! If you wish to make the stay permanent, we will even provide moving assistance.

For more information, contact Melissa Porter at 814-332-9238. You may also view our Facebook page and visit our web site at www.wesbury.com.

Why Choose Home and Community Based Services?

Choosing senior services and care options has become overwhelming. With so many choices available, understanding what is best for your circumstances is difficult. What seems the most challenging, is determining what to do for those who need some support or companionship, but do not need a nursing home. Many wish to stay in their current home and want services to come to them.

This is where Home and Community Based Services comes in. Just as the title indicates, these services are offered out in the community, right into your current home. Wesbury's offerings include housekeeping, laundry, meal delivery, 24/7 emergency alert systems and companions that can help with all of the activities of daily living. Companions are a wonderful solution to loneliness, safety concerns, personal care needs, household tasks and transportation. Companions will go along to social events or a movie as well as to appointments, the grocery store or post office. They can help clean out a closet or decorate for a holiday.

Not everyone who desires these services lives in a house alone. Some live in Personal Care or Nursing Homes but wish to further enhance the personal one on one time and attention that a companion can provide. A companion can sit for a few hours and share a good book, play a game or accompany them to an activity or entertainment program. This could be the best decision you make for your loved one. Sometimes it's the day to day support that we need; sometimes it's just a friend. For more information on how you can receive Wesbury's Home and Community Based Services call Marilyn at 814-332-9705.

Making the Right Choice Proves its Value and Provides Peace of Mind

The Reverend Harry Stoll and his wife, Margot, have always felt moving to Wesbury almost 20 years ago was a great decision, but sometimes it takes a potential tragedy to really solidify the right choice in your mind. The Stolls had spent most of their careers in upstate New York. Harry was getting ready to retire from 34 years of ministry in the United Methodist Church when they began looking into continuing care retirement communities. The Stolls actually had no connection to Meadville when they decided to call Wesbury home, the area happened to meet their criteria. They wanted to be within a close driving range of Cleveland because Margot's mother lived there, and they wanted to be close to the Chautauqua Institute in Western New York. Each is less than a 2-hour drive from Meadville. The Stolls also wanted to live in a college town for cultural and educational events and after years of living in parsonages, Harry and Margot wanted to build their own house that could also serve as home base while they pursued their dream to travel. With Allegheny College right down the road and Wesbury giving them approval to build, they made their decision and gained the freedom to travel the world, which they did extensively.

Over the years, The Stolls enjoyed the benefits of living in a retirement community. They relished in the maintenance-free lifestyle, not having to work on their home when they needed a repair, not having to shovel snow from the walkway and driveway as well as being able to talk to someone immediately if a healthcare issue arose. They also took advantage of being able to commit their free time to volunteering around Wesbury as well as the Meadville community. Harry joined Rotary, taught music to children of the Wesbury-Allegheny Afterschool Arts Program and served as the Wesbury Resident Council President for 15 years. Margot joined the Sunset Auxiliary and continues to work at the Sunset Auxiliary Gift Shoppe in Grace Health Center every Saturday. Between their traveling and volunteering, The Stolls epitomized the meaning of independent retirement living.

This past summer, Harry nodded off while driving back from their annual trip to Chautauqua. Their car veered off the road and hit a tree. They did sustain injuries that required medical attention, and were very lucky the accident was not any worse. Harry and Margot have decided to stop driving, but thanks to the transportation services at Wesbury, they have not slowed down. They continue to travel with the annual Wesbury and Active Aging trips and use Wesbury's transportation services to go to the grocery store, medical appointments and to further destinations like Pittsburgh.

Valesky's can deliver groceries and Northwest Pharmacy Solutions can deliver medications right to their door. Because Rotary and Sunset Auxiliary meet right on campus, it's easy for Harry and Margot to stay involved and volunteer. They can also attend church services at the Wesbury Chapel and enjoy activities and social occasions at the clubhouse. Essentially, The Stolls are now using the programs and services that drew them to a continuing care community two decades ago. "We recognize the likelihood of needing help as we age." states Harry, adding, "We do not have any local family, but are comfortable because we know we are living in the right place where when something happens, Wesbury can provide whatever services and security that we need."

Youth Volunteers Make New Friends at Hillside Home

Over the summer, youth volunteers from the Living Lord Lutheran Church in Bartlett, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, visited the residents of Hillside Home. Each year, the volunteers have a mission project outside of their local area. For this project, they coordinated their stay with the First Presbyterian Church in Meadville. For a week, residents at Hillside were delighted and blessed to have the volunteers to visit with and play various games. The missionaries also painted three of the porches at Hillside Home and even volunteered their time to the Wesbury Chicken BBQ. After their project was completed, they returned to the Chicago area with the new friends they made at Hillside in their thoughts and prayers.
