Wesbury President and CEO, Donald E. Clawson, Announces Retirement

Dear Friends of Wesbury,

After much soul searching and conversations with my wife and various board members, I have decided that March 31, 2015 will be my last day of active participation as President and CEO of the Wesbury group. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as President and CEO of each of the Wesbury associated corporations for nearly twenty-two years. This decision comes only after much thoughtful deliberation. The respect and affection that I feel toward the Wesbury Community has only deepened since I joined this family in 1993. My wife and I have made many lasting friends and I continue to marvel at our good fortune in having become part of Wesbury. Believe me, the thought of setting aside a daily role in the life of Wesbury is a very difficult one.

Over the past years, Wesbury has achieved remarkable progress and has been recognized at regional, national and international levels thanks to the commitment and talents of so many. I have been fortunate to work with an exceptional administrative team, and a superb board of directors, each of whom has been committed personally toward furthering the Christian mission of Wesbury with their time, talents and treasure. Together, I believe we have created an exceptional regional facility that continues to deliver the highest quality of care, services and facilities for all who look to Wesbury for assistance during some of the most difficult aspects of their family's health and life needs.

Having had the good fortune to have worked with so many wonderful people for so long has made coming to work each day a joy. However, the time has come for someone else to help Wesbury navigate the changes that will be necessary to take Wesbury into its second hundred years. Wesbury is financially strong, spiritually content, and has a team in place that is very capable of continuing to build on its very solid reputation.

Thank you for twenty-two years of friendship, support and service.

Don Clawson
CEO/President Wesbury

After twenty-two years of dedicated service, Wesbury President and CEO Donald E. Clawson has announced his retirement effective March 31, 2015. Since becoming President and CEO, Mr. Clawson has strategically made decisions that improve Wesbury's positioning in the community, making it one of the premier senior resources in the Northwest PA region.

The following timeline outlines Mr. Clawson's legacy of vision and innovation that has positioned Wesbury to remain an industry leader and continue to grow far into the future.

During Mr. Clawson's 22-year tenure, Wesbury has been recognized nationally by the United Methodist Association (UMA) EAGLE Accreditation process five consecutive times as well as receiving the UMA's Innovation Award for a Recreational Music Making study that focused on nursing staff burnout and retention. The Economic Development Corporation of Erie County, now known as DevelopErie, honored Wesbury United Methodist Retirement Community of Meadville as a regional "Employer of the Year" finalist.

In addition to his work at Wesbury, Mr. Clawson has been very active in the Meadville community. For ten years, he served as chairman of the Meadville Area Sewer Authority, the Historic Meadville Markethouse Authority and on the Salvation Army Board of Directors. He has also served on the Citizen's Advisory Council for Replacement of the Mead Avenue Bridge and a number of other organizations. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Meadville and the 2014 recipient of the Dr. H.C. Winslow Award.

Don and his wife, Patricia, plan to stay in the Meadville area and continue working for the betterment of the community.

The Board of Directors of Wesbury is currently considering the appointment of a new President and Chief Executive Officer for Wesbury.

The residents, staff and volunteers thank Mr. Clawson for his dedication to the Wesbury community. Don's generosity and good nature will truly be missed. We look forward to building upon his legacy as Wesbury moves into advancing new leadership.

From Talent to Treasure

There is something to be said about the natural beauty that surrounds Wesbury and Northwestern Pennsylvania. The abundant woodlands, streams and lakes are fantastic for the outdoors enthusiast sparking inspiration and creativity. To Thoburn Village resident Paul Rose, the woods supply a therapeutic conduit to relax and focus. For many years, Paul's hobby has been "woodturning," a form of woodworking that is used to create wooden objects on a lathe. When Paul and his wife, Pat, moved to Wesbury the fully equipped woodworking shop located on campus proved perfect for Paul where he can continue to pursue his passion. Today, Paul can often be found in the woodshop with fellow resident, Ken Montag, working on personal pieces as well as projects created to support Wesbury in some fashion.

It was on the recent annual Wesbury Trip to Cape Cod that Paul donated three of his beautiful hand turned wooden bowls to the return trip "auction" starting a bidding war that ended at $15,000! Throughout the trip, travelers received "play money" for answering questions, pointing out facts, or practically anything. It is then used in to buy items during the "auction", an annual tradition that creates a lot of camaraderie and laughter while traveling home. Because Paul's wooden bowls proved very popular, he decided to donate 30 of them to The Wesbury Foundation to be sold at the Sunset Auxiliary Gift Shoppe in Wesbury's Grace Health Center; with proceeds going directly to The Wesbury Foundation's Benevolent Care Fund. Supporting the Wesbury community and Benevolent Care is important to the Roses. They know the hardships health care costs can have on a person as Pat's mom received charitable care at the facility she resided in years ago.

"You never know what kind of situation is coming around the corner, things can change at any time," says Pat. "It's nice that Paul can use his talents to help residents who have outlasted their resources."

Learned techniques and abilities can take a raw piece of wood and turn it to art. It is inherent character and generosity that takes those gifts and turns them into relief for a stranger and their family. Paul's beautiful and unique wood turned bowls are available at the Sunset Auxiliary Gift Shoppe as well as small wooden mushrooms and spruce trees also created on his lathe.

"For me, this is doing something I love, that helps support others in need, it doesn't get any better," says Paul. "I also get the satisfaction of knowing that something I created is going to someone who really likes it; truly a win-win from my perspective."

Consider Leaving a Gift

As we begin the New Year and you review your charitable giving plans, have you considered leaving a gift to Wesbury in your will?

Leaving an organization in your will or "planned giving" creates unique opportunities for donors to give. There are many planned giving options from which you can choose depending on what you wish to accomplish for yourself, your family, and your charitable interests in your overall estate and financial plans.

Wesbury not only relies on outright cash gifts from generous donors to replenish The Benevolent or charitable Care Fund, but also relies on bequests, or gifts through your will, to ensure our work can continue into the future. A mention of Wesbury in your will allows you to retain control of your assets during your lifetime, while creating a lasting legacy on your behalf.

If you have already included Wesbury in your estate plans or have arranged a planned gift, please let us know so that we may thank you for your generosity and make sure that your wishes are fulfilled. For more information about making a planned gift, please contact your attorney or call The Wesbury Foundation at 814-332-9264.

We're Going to the Georgia Coast!

Join Wesbury as we visit the exquisite natural beauty, history and wonder of Jekyll Island and Savannah, Georgia. Located just off the coast of Georgia, Jekyll Island is one of four barrier islands featuring abundant wild life, beautiful beaches and historical landmarks. Established in 1733, Savannah is the oldest city in Georgia. Each year, millions of visitors are attracted to experience the city's architecture and historic districts. Savannah is a strategic seaport city that was heavily used during the American Revolution and Civil War. We will depart from Wesbury, via motor coach, on Friday, May 16th, and return on Saturday, May 22nd. This trip will feature delicious southern cuisine and full-service accommodations as well as historic points of interest, unique shopping opportunities and visits to the ocean.

The two-day trip to Jekyll Island features a stop at Tamarack in Beckley, WV which houses five resident artisan studios and offers West Virginia products made from wood, glass, textiles, pottery, and metal as well as jewelry, fine art and specialty food items. After an overnight stay in Rock Hill, SC, we will arrive on Jekyll Island in the mid-afternoon to visit the Georgia Sea Turtle Center and Hospital. Opened in 2007, the Center is dedicated to the conservation and awareness of Sea Turtles through education, rehabilitation and research. From there, we will enjoy a guided tram tour of the historic district before we check in to our hotel, a brand new property, near the ocean with a boardwalk over the sand dunes to the water's edge.

We will start our third day with a guided tour of St. Simons Island, have lunch near the historic village pier, and visit Christ Church, Ft. Frederica National Monument and St. Simons Lighthouse Museum. Upon our return to Jekyll Island, we will dine at the famous Jekyll Island Club.

Day four begins with the 90-mile ride to Savannah where we will embark on a trolley and house museum tour followed by lunch at Paula Deen's "Lady and Sons" restaurant. After, you will be free to explore Savannah's City Market and River Street areas before dinner at Mrs. Wilke's Boarding House.

It is said that the ocean, rivers and marshes define life in the Georgia Low Country. Here we will visit nearby Tybee Island beach and the lighthouse, enjoy lunch at The Crab Shack, and explore the Savannah Bee Co., a unique shop where everything is made of or with honey! We end the day with a dolphin watch cruise along the intercostals waterways and dinner at the famous Pirates' House restaurant. It is said that underground tunnels connect the Pirates' House to the ocean, where long ago, unlucky patrons of the bar could be drugged and kidnapped to work on pirate ships.

As we depart Savannah we will visit Magnolia Plantation and Gardens in Charleston, SC. Located on 70 acres, Magnolia Plantation is one of the oldest plantations dating back to 1676 and is known for its gardens which were first developed in the 1840s by

The Unexpected Road to Recovery

Saegertown restauranteur Jeff Kays was out for a ride on his motorcycle when a fellow driver made an abrupt turn in front of his path launching him into the roadway. His motorcycle was cut in half, and he was unconscious. The paramedics took him to Meadville Medical Center where he was stabilized and sent to UPMC Hamot in Erie. Jeff had head trauma, a concussion, and fractures in his arm, shoulder, ribs, pelvis and knee. He was facing a long road to recovery that included reconstructive surgery and months of rehabilitation. Post operations, Jeff was sent to HealthSouth in Erie to begin five weeks of recovery. Jeff was not worried about paying for his healthcare services as he is a Vietnam Veteran who receives full benefits, but at HealthSouth his Medicare ran out. He was still in need of more comprehensive rehabilitative services, so it was suggested he be moved to Wesbury's Grace Health Center.

While Jeff was happy to be moving closer to home, he had apprehensions with some pre-conceived notions of what going to a local "nursing home" would entail. To Jeff's surprise, when it came to Grace Health Center, those notions could not be more incorrect. Upon admission, he thought he might have a roommate, but being a resident of Grace's short-term rehab neighborhood gave him a private room. He thought it would be dark and depressing, but found the high ceilings, bright lights and cleanliness uplifting. When he arrived, staff immediately began to take care of his needs, including a recommendation by a staff member for a particular air mattress that would make him more comfortable.

Being in short-term rehab, Jeff had the choice of dining with other short stay residents in their private dining room, or he could choose made to order items from Wesbury's Neighborhood Grill that he could eat in the Grill's dining area, or in the privacy of his room. He also had the choice to participate in activities when he wanted to. Everything was up to him.

It was when he had his first session with Wesbury's Rehab Therapists that Jeff began to form tears in his eyes. "In a few weeks you are not only going to be able to walk out of here, you will likely be able to run," said therapist, Rod Miller. Starting with small steps, first two, then four, then six, Jeff began to regain his strength and movement.

Over the following six weeks, the VA would check on his care and Jeff began to see everything that Wesbury had to offer. When he needed to make a check up with doctors in Erie, Wesbury Transportation took him to his appointment. When he needed to be x-rayed, no need to go downtown, Wesbury's Medical Arts Center is attached to Grace Health Center. If he wanted a snack or haircut, the Sunset Auxiliary Gift Shoppe and Beauty Shop were right down the hall. Everything was convenient.

"When people say Wesbury is a community, they are not kidding", Jeff observes. "You can get anything you need, and I was shocked by the amount of people I already knew that were either residents or visiting other residents."

Although he walked and did not run out of Grace Health Center after being discharged, Jeff had healed to the point where running was now an option.

"The staff was great," says Jeff, "unbelievable, actually, they gave me options and choices right off the bat. They had my interests at heart."

If you or a loved one are in need of therapy following a surgery, accident or illness, contact Wesbury's Grace Health Center by calling 814-332-9000. Wesbury is Medicare, Medicaid and VA approved.

Discover Hillside: Meadville's Hidden Gem

Nestled behind tall oak trees on a hill sits a turn of the century brick home filled with life, love, and laughter. Originally founded as an orphanage and home for the aged Wesbury Hillside Home has been a homestead to thousands in the Meadville area for over the past 106 years and continues to provide Enhanced Living and Personal Care for seniors 62 and older. Pulling into the driveway here is like coming home. During summer, red and white petunias beckon you onto the porch to rest and watch butterflies and birds in the gardens. Entering the home you are greeted by a grand staircase, and floor to ceiling length mirror reminiscent of Hillside's historic past. The old-fashioned furniture and welcoming décor yields a strong sense of home. Carol, a Hillside resident, points out, "I love the quaint setting and small number of people. Everyone is friendly and you get to know everyone." Speaking to a few residents they reminisced that the camaraderie here reminds them of their old Sorority days at college where their best friend was just a quick trip down the hall.

On the main floor one can explore the library, rest in a comfy chair by the fireplace in the activities room, or simply enjoy a manicure or pedicure in the beauty salon. If interested in planting some perennials in the elevated gardens or just relaxing in the sun on the second floor terrace an elevator provides easy transportation. Residents have time for naps, to rest and put their feet up for a little while or to participate in activities. Dorothy, a resident at Hillside exclaims, "If anyone is bored here, it is their own fault. We have the Barbershoppers, church groups and services, and the Slim Brothers…If you want to go to an activity but need help just push your button and a nurse will come and assist you." Many also choose to give back to charity participating in the WIC Program by knitting blankets, hats and sewing bears for children under the age of five.

With 36 residents, the community allows for more one on one support with a licensed nursing staff. At Hillside there are no long halls, and it is not overwhelming. For residents with dementia this provides a sense of relief and security. Pendants are worn, so if there is a resident need or a fall, staff can quickly locate them and provide care. Cathi Hanson, Vice President of Residential Services at Hillside states, "We at Hillside are the relief, we are the support system to the daughter or son. The families no longer have to worry about juggling, meals, taking their loved one to doctor's appointments, or keeping up with the laundry and housekeeping. A personal shopper also goes out twice a month to pick up items for residents who either cannot get out to purchase personal items." If you know the tale of 'Goldilocks and the Three Bears', and the story's quote "it's not too big, and it's not too small… It's just right". That is Wesbury Hillside Home.

If you would like more information about moving to Hillside or coming for a winter or respite stay contact Cathi Hanson at 814-332-9186 or visit us at www.hillsidehome.org.
